Standby Electric Service Scheduled Soon for Holland

Holland soon will have standby electrical service through an arrangement with Consumers Power Co.

City Council Wednesday night approved a contract with Consumers Power of Jackson for an interchange of electric service between Consumers Power Co. and the city of Holland for 10 years and thereafter.

The interchange arrangement would supply the city with electric energy in case of a breakdown of the board's facilities as well as for scheduled and emergency repairs. The proposed interconnection would provide up to 12,500 kva.

The Board of Public Works will install a 12,500 kva. substation, metering facilities and other equipment. Cost of the substation cannot be determined until specifications are prepared and bids received. Cost of the total operation is estimated at $144,000, most of which will be defrayed by a capital expenditure budget entry of $138,500.

The decision of the BPW to recommend this expenditure is based on the desire to augment the present facilities by providing an outside source of power for use in case of emergencies, breakdowns and failures of local equipment.

The contract also provides a reciprocal agreement whereby the Consumers Power Co. also would purchase power from the city in event of similar circumstances involving their equipment.

Consumers Power Co. will install some transmission lines, switches and other accessories for which the Board of Public Works agrees to pay $26,500. This figure is included in the total estimate.

A communication from the Board of Public Works signed by President R. C. Bosch pointed out that the arrangement with Consumers Power Co. is for emergencies only, plus the fact that it will also mean a large investment for Consumers Power.

Bosch explained that the board has been working on such plans since 1948, but that arrangements could not be effected until recently the city of Holland was in no position to offer any reciprocal service. It was in 1950 that Holland experienced its most serious breakdown. Since then additional facilities have been installed at the James De Young plant.

"It's a two-way deal — one that means a large investment for Consumers Power Co. as well as for ourselves — and it will provide that outside source of power for use in case of emergencies, breakdowns and failures of our own equipment. It's an emergency deal only," Bosch said.

"We feel the expenditure can be justified on the basis of reducing the chances of interruptions of the electric power supply to our homes, business houses, factories and our hospital," Bosch said.

Man Caught in Act Of Taking Apples

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Robert Lucas, 26, White Cloud, was caught in the act of taking four bushels of apples standing alongside a road, and his penalty in court proved to be an expensive lesson.

Lucas had taken four bushels of apples standing alongside a Crocker township road Wednesday afternoon when he was surprised by Fritz Umor. Later it was learned Lucas already had dumped 10 bushels in the truck of his car from another owner, as yet unidentified.

VETERAN TEACHER HONORED—Nearly 400 people were on hand Sunday when the community paid tribute to Miss Harriet Adams, veteran Allegan kindergarten teacher, at a reception in Griswold Memorial building. A highlight of the affair was the presentation of a watch in honor of her retirement after 39 years as a teacher. Those making the presentation represented four chapters in Miss Adams' life. They are, from left to right, Edward Colahan, of 3412 Konkle St., Kalamazoo, a member of the first class ever taught by Miss Adams at a rural school in Valley township; R.G. Blanz, a former student and father of a member of her last class; Kathleen Armstrong, a member of her last class; E.D. Osmun, whose husband, the late Dr. Osmun officiated at Miss Adams' birth in his first maternity case as a young doctor. Miss Adams was seated behind the desk she had used for so many years at the North Ward school. It was brought to the building especially for the reception.

There are 57 local firms participating in SSP.

Mrs. Maurice Sullivan Dies in Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Mrs. Maurice Sullivan, 54, 107 Elliot St., died at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday in Municipal Hospital, where she had entered two weeks ago.

She had been in ill health for six years and seriously so the past two days. She was born Gertrude Isabelle Beebe in Ravenna Sept. 24, 1901 and was married Feb. 18, 1922, in Grand Haven where she spent most of her life. She was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church and the Altar society.

Her husband, employed at the Construction Aggregates Corp., survives as do two daughters, Gertrude, at home, Mrs. Dale Cook of Plainwell; four sons, Maurice, Jr., of Baltimore, Md.; Daniel of Grand Haven, James and Michael at home; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Behm of Agnew and Mrs. Erwin Bunchkowski of Milwaukee; also six grandchildren.

ALLEGAN (Special) — Like children turned loose in a candy shop, Allegan area sidewalk superintendents are suffering from jaded appetites.

As Enos P. Gay, of Valley Township, points out, "it's been too lush a summer for us."

Gay, long considered the dean of local construction kibitzers, said he thought he could walk past a double row of power shovels without missing a step.

After a summer of one big construction job after another, many a fall project is underway without the benefit of Gay's counsel or advice from other members of his fraternity. He doubted if he would even be able to drum up a four-some to watch the raising of the temporary wooden bridge that carried M-118 traffic over the Kalamazoo River while the new steel and concrete structure was in progress.

With more than two million dollars worth of construction underway in Allegan this past summer, it has been just one barricade after another for the city's pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

At the moment, Locust St., the town's main business block, looks like an army obstacle course, as the gas company continues checking and repairing all valves in preparation for next year's paving project. All of the other business streets have been subjected to the same treatment in recent weeks.

The season got off to an early start in the spring with the remodeling of three stores owned on Lust. The $150,000 bank remodeling got underway next and the job is still in progress.

Soon afterwards, the M-118 bridge project got started and the sidewalk superintendents gave this work their undivided attention with only occasional side trips to check on progress on the new $225,000 Catholic school, DeLano Service plant on the east side edge of town, a new motel, service station and frozen custard dispensary on the west side and a new high voltage transmission line across town.

As fall came and work on the bridge began to lose its appeal, the kibitzers got a change of fare when workers began razing two buildings, including the historic old Oliver furniture company plant, which will be used for expansion of the city electrical department, and the Francis Clair residence on Hubbard St., which will provide the site for Union Telephone Company's new office and exchange building. The company plans to switch from manual to automatic equipment by December of 1956.

And, as if that wasn't enough, City Manager P. H. Beauvais revealed that bids would be opened in Lansing Wednesday on a project calling for widening Grand St. The present 34-foot roadway will be widened to 48 feet and the project will call for removal of all but four of the maples which now line the block.

Jaded though his appetite for sidewalk superintending might be, Enos Gay admitted he might find time to keep tabs on this one, last project.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van Voorst, Carol, Mark and Kathryn, left by car this morning for Washington D. C., where they will take up residence. Mr. Van Voorst has accepted a career appointment with the United States Department of State.

Holland Furnace Fetes Winners for 50th Anniversary

With Holland Furnace Co. marking its 50th year in business this year, leading sales representatives of the company gathered at Macatawa Bay Yacht Club Thursday night as guests of Mrs. P.T. Cheff who has been a director in the local company for 35 years.

Thursday night's event was the culmination of a seven weeks'

sales promotion this summer called the Katie Cheff Honor Award Contest. The picture of Mrs. Cheff in this article was the one used as the symbol of the contest. Winners in the various divisions received personal invitations from Mrs. Cheff to come to Holland for presentation of the awards.

A surprise feature of the party was a ceremony in which Mrs. Cheff was made an honorary member of the company's "goats," heretofore a men's organization.

During her 35 years as a director, Mrs. Cheff has been particularly active at the policy-making level. She not only had a hand with the organization of the company, but aided in the reorganization during the difficult depression years. Since its inception the company has had but four chief executive officers: Guy Bouman, 1905-1912; A.H. Landwehr, 1913-1928; C.H. Landwehr, 1929-1932; and P.T. Cheff, from 1933 to date. J.P. Kolla was the founder of the company.

In 50 years, the company has grown from a small local concern to a nationally known and recognized institution serving more than 17½ million customers in a half century of operation.

Holland Furnace Co. is the only heating company in the country which manufactures and sells its own product. This is done through some 500 branch offices throughout the country employing about 7,000 salesmen. The handsome three-story administration building on Columbia Ave. is home office for the far-flung operation.

At Thursday's festivities, Al Klompars, sales manager, introduced the 14 winners and Mrs. Cheff presented silver trophies. Winners in the division managers' classification were J.G. Schott, Blue Ridge, George Shaffer, Mason-Dixon, and Cliff Caster, South-west. Volume branch winners were Floyd Johnson, St. Louis; Harrol Wheatley, Kansas City; J.G. Tatarian, Philadelphia, and G.J. Brown, Louisville.

Winning branch managers on quotas were Don Moberg, Marinette, Wis.; John Line, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; and W.E. Erickson, Wilmington, Del. Sales engineers in greatest volume were Bob Zugmaier, St. Louis; Paul Dunn, Wilkes-Barre; Joe Mascale, Wilmington; and Hank Thairose of Akron, Ohio.

Entertainment at Thursday's fete was provided by professional talent featuring Jimmy Wakeley, popular cowboy singer.

Rotary Club Hears Deputy Ver Schure

Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ver Schure was speaker at the Holland Rotary Club meeting Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

He told some of his experiences while working with the department and exhibited weapons used by officers and some weapons confiscated from criminals.

Ver Schure demonstrated a portable resuscitator and considerable discussion followed on its value and the need for several in Holland and the county.

Ver Schure said that although living costs have jumped 88 percent since 1939, police salaries have risen only 26 percent. He said that he felt a higher standard of living would interest more men in police work. The department is badly understaffed at present, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Andrew Vollink.

Carl Meyer Dies

Carl J. Meyer, Milwaukee businessman and civic leader, died at South Haven, Mich., Sept. 29, while on a business trip, it was learned here today. Meyer, founder and operator of the Forelle Fish store in Milwaukee, was a frequent visitor to Holland and made regular visits to local sporting goods stores and lake sites.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Von Ins, of 11 North River Ave. His condition is reported as "good" at Holland Hospital.

The accident occurred on West 13th St., between Van Raalte and Harrison Aves. According to witnesses, the boy darted into the path of Walters' car from behind a parked vehicle.

He was apparently chasing a stick thrown into the street by his brother Douglas, 7, witnesses said. The boys were being cared for by a friend of the parents, who were in Grand Rapids at the time of the accident.

According to Holland City Police, who investigated, the driver was absolved of all blame.

Spring Lake Man Captured After Armed Robbery

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A 20-year-old Spring Lake man was captured this morning less than 60 minutes after an armed robbery of a grocery store near Grand Haven.

Wallace Lynn Johnson, 20, of 6784 Grand Haven Rd., Spring Lake, is being held in the Ottawa County Jail on an armed robbery charge.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek said Johnson has admitted the holdup in which he got $28 in cash from Mrs. Lennie Saunders at Oaklea Grocery Store near Bath Rover in Robinson Township.

Johnson walked into the store shortly before 9:49 a.m. wearing a red bandana over the lower half of his face below his eyes.

He leveled a double barrel shotgun at Mrs. Saunders and said, "Give me all the money in the store." Mrs. Saunders gave him two $5 bills and $18 in singles.

When she reached down for the silver, Johnson told her, "forget it." The minute Johnson left the store Mrs. Saunders was on the phone calling the Grand Haven police.

She gave an excellent description of the holdup man and the direction he was heading on foot. Vanderbeek and Undersheriff Harris Nieuwma immediately started for the grocery store while other deputies, Grand Haven and Holland City police threw up road blockades.

The officers followed Johnson's path through a field until they came to a spot where a car had apparently been parked.

They were able to follow the car's tire impressions for nearly eight miles on gravel roads. Vanderbeek said tracking was fairly easy since one rear tire was a snow tire and the others were smooth.

Near US-31 the deputies questioned a motorist parked in a field who gave them an accurate description of a car which passed a short time before at a high rate of speed.

The description was immediately put out over the radio network. At 10:45 p.m. Grand Haven Officer J. K. McAlvey spotted the car on US-31 near Waverly St. parked in a gas station.

Johnson was sitting behind the wheel and gave up without a struggle to McAlvey. The loaded shotgun was found in the car.

Under questioning Johnson said he pulled the holdup and admitted several gasoline thefts in the Grand Haven area.

Johnson startled deputies when he said that he had originally planned to rob a gasoline station in Holland on Michigan Ave.

The Zephyr Service Station at 723 Michigan Ave., operated by Fred Weiss had been Johnson's original target.

The Spring Lake man had been in Holland this morning but decided against robbing the service station because there were "too many people around."

Bouten appeared in the custody of Corp. Kent Lombard of the Michigan State Police. It was reported that while he was in jail at Fairbault, Minn., he already had begun an attempt to work his way out of jail there. He was released to local authorities and was returned to Grand Haven earlier this week.

Ottawa County 4-H News

By Willis S. Boss
County 4-H Club Agent

The four counselors who helped with the 4-H camp during the past summer were awarded a trip to Rural Youth United States of America Conference at Jackson's Mill, W.V., last week. All of the counselors were from the Coopersville area this year. They were Joan Dyke, Joan Koppenol, Gordon Handlogten and Jerry Bouwkamp. RYUSA Conference is made up of members representing all rural areas of the U.S. and Canada. This is the second year this trip has been awarded to camp counselors.

The 4-H leaders worked hard on the Corn Day event. A large number contributed pies and beans to make the food part of the event a success. We wish to thank all those who helped in this event.

This year the school conservation project will feature wildlife. The outline is available at the Club office, Court House, Grand Haven. Each rural school teacher will receive a copy soon. The wildlife project has been approved by Miss J. Kaufman, Ottawa County School superintendent, and the soil conservation department. Each school is permitted to enroll the whole class in this project provided the member is 10 years of age. The project is worked out in the schoolroom with the assistance of the teacher. Members do some work on their own and an exhibit is made at a spring achievement day. The Honor Roll is selected and a program provided at that time.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program is being planned for this county. This program is open to anyone who can qualify. Application blanks can be secured from the club agent. Twice in the second half, Grand Haven moved the ball to the Bear six after a 79-yard march and 83 yards in the final three minutes to the S. Joe eight but were stalled each time.

The starting linemen Rothi is using are all lettermen but one. However, the group is getting its "under-fire experience" this year.

Bill Ryt and Pete Moore are the starting ends with John Schuitman and Davis tackles. Dave McCaleb, 198-pound senior, made a good defensive showing against St. Joe and may get the call.

Corky Lach and John Stillson are the guards and Doug Poort center. Lach has been the outstanding lineman in the three previous games.

Rothi also lists a veteran starting backfield but was jarred a bit Friday when two of his most dependable starters were injured.

Gene Le Koeper, All-state Class B fullback, left the game with three minutes left because of a knee bruise and halfback Gene Ralva missed the entire second half of the St. Joe game after getting a "badly bruised" pelvic bone in the first half.

The 6-0 remain question marks this week.

But other first stringers and substitute backs showed up well for the Bucs.

John Marod, starting right half, and Hark Swifney, quarterback, handled both positions admirably and were given assists by Don Bigler, a big sophomore fullback who doubles as a strong linebacker and Jerry Green, who broke away for 38 yards on one scrimmage play.

While the 174-pound De Koeper was in the game he slammed out 78 yards in five carries.

The two reserve teams will meet at Green Hill Field in the afternoon Friday at 4 p.m. Coach Ned Stuits' crew is still looking for its first win after dropping three contests hospital last week.

Heights Edges Out 'Much Improved' Dutch, 7-6; Locals

An extra point left Holland High's football team on the short end of a 7-6 game against Muskegon Heights at Riverview Park Friday night but did provide the Dutch with a much-needed moral victory and gave fans some top notch prep football.

A senior fullback, Ted Halasinski plunged through center from the one-yard line with 2:55 gone in the fourth period for the Tiger touchdown and followed with the important extra point, a kick that sliced the uprights.

Left half and co-captain Ron Van Dyke of Holland had brought Holland's cheering section to a peak not heard in more than a year with a nine yard off-tackle touchdown smash with 2:40 gone in the third quarter.

But he wasn't as fortunate as the Tiger back with his kick. The boot angled off to the left. Bill Buis, left guard and the other co-captain had set up the Dutch scoring chance by recovering Vern Hosko's fumble of the third quarter kickoff on the Muskegon Heights 25. Tackle Allen Hill had hit Hosko causing him to fumble.

Van Dyke took the ball twice and picked up seven and right half Dick Dem Uyl crashed down to the Tiger nine on a quick opener and a first down. Van Dyke carried over on the next play.

Holland opened the fourth period with the ball on their own 20 and second down. Den Uyl picked up five and fullback Tom Klomparsen four to the Dutch 29, one yard short of a first down.

Playing cautious football, Van Dyke punted out of bounds on the Tigers 48.

A gain and loss erased each other and the Tigers advanced to mid-field on third down.

Here, Bob Slezak, senior quarterback, threw a pass to 6'3" end Cliff Cummings that covered 34 yards and set up the Tiger score. Rog Ramsey, who had turned in several defensive plays earlier, let Cummings get behind him on the play. He finally caught the lanky end's ankle on the 16.

Halasinski swept down the sidelines to the one on the next play while the Dutch were thinking about what had happened on the pass. On the next play, he scored.

Statistics told a major part of the story. Holland picked up 111 yards in the game. The Tigers gained 144 yards.

Holland netted 25 yards in the first period, 26 in the second, 28 in the third and 32 in the fourth. The Tigers had 53 in the first, 33 in the third and 57 in the fourth, but were held to a net of one yard in the second period.

Holland scrapped on every play and was alert and after the ball more than has been seen here in a long time.

The Tigers started a first period march from the Holland 40 after returning a Van Dyke punt. They got to the Holland 29 in four plays and shadows of 1954 began to form. But Buis, again was on the spot and gobbled up a loose ball stopping the drive.

In the second quarter, Holland played the Tigers to a standstill and it was a surprised Coach Olie Johnson who walked across the field at halftime.

The Tigers, after making 53 yards in nine tries in the first quarter gained five and lost four in 10 attempts in quarter No. 2.

Holland threw "an aerial scare with two completed passes by Stoel, one to Van Dyke for 18 yards and one to end Norm Witteveen, for 21 yards. But also had two passes intercepted.

The Tigers managed to get to the Dutch five at the final whistle. The hard play was showing on Holland and the Tiger backs were able to move 55 yards, after taking a Dutch punt, in six plays in the final minutes.

But for Holland, it was a "tremendous improvement" over the home showing made here against Grand Rapids Creston last week. As coaches had said following the Niles tie, the team had found itself and would start to function as a unit.

It did.

Holland has shown steady improvement in the three games and possibly county-rival Grand Haven will feel the impact next week as the Dutch try again for their first win.

The Dutch showed with the scrap that they were out to play football and the fans enjoyed it, cheered wildly and were quick to compliment following the game.

The game served as a partial revenge for the 34-0 lambasting Holland took last year at Muskegon Heights, the worst defeat in the long rivalry.

Armstrong to Play Pro Ball With Bevo Francis

It's workout time again for Bob Armstrong and the big 6 foot 8 inch fellow is hurrying to get in shape because he's got an important date in Chicago in a couple of weeks.

Armstrong, three-year Michigan State cazer, is all set to play pro ball this winter with the Boston Whirlwinds, one of basketball's up-and-coming teams.

The Whirlwinds, coached by Newt Oliver and featuring 6 foot 9 inch Bevo Francis, got interested in Armstrong when the big fellow played against them four times last spring following the MSU season.

Oliver's team and Francis appeared here to open the Civic Center, Oct. 26, 1954 and filled the place to capacity.

Armstrong is to report to Saperstein's office in the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, Oct. 16. He will sign a contract and begin drills the following day.

Play is to start Nov. 21 and will continue through the end of March. Games are played five days a week, Armstrong reported, so he should get in a real whirl at basketball in six months.

"That's what I want, too," Armstrong said. "I want to get this basketball out of my system and see the country."

If he tires of the rigors of one-night stands, Armstrong will hang out the sneakers and enter business. He obtained his B. S. in business administration this summer at MSU.

While winding up his college work, Armstrong worked in an automobile factory in Lansing building himself up again after the spring layoff.

But, Armstrong says he hasn't had a basketball in his hands since March until last Monday, and "It's really tough getting it shape."

Appointment of David L. Ver Burg, Spring Lake, to the staff of the Grand Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, was announced Monday by Herman Brandmiller, scout executive, and Oscar H. Anderson, chairman of the Ottawa Scout District, where VerBurg will serve as District Scout Executive beginning Dec. 1. Ottawa District includes the Tri-Cities area, Coopersville, Nunica, Eastmanville, Allendale, Marne and Conklin, and is one of the 11 districts of the local scout council.

J. Richard Wilson, district executive now serving Ottawa and Chippewa Districts, will be assigned to the Chippewa area which includes Holland, Zeeland, Saugatuck, Ganges, Fennville, Pearl, Hamletton, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Forest Grove and West Olive.

VerBurg, a member of the Michigan State police, begins today on a training program which will last for two months and includes a six-week course at Schiff National Scout Training Reservation at Mendham, N. J. Wilson will continue to serve the Ottawa District until the training program is completed.

The new district executive served for six years as a Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster in Grand Rapids. For two summers he was a member of the staff at Camp Shawandossie. He has been active recently as assistant scoutmaster of Troop 54, Spring Lake. VerBurg is a graduate of Grand Rapids Junior College and attended Michigan State University. He and his wife, Theresa, have two children, Janet, 6, and Michael, 3, and are living at 516 East Exchange St., Spring Lake.

The addition of a staff man to the Ottawa-Allegan county area was brought on by the increase in active boy membership to more than 1900. Plans for the next four years indicate a growth to 3,200 boys.

Rites Held for Accident Victim

ZEELAND (Special) — John W. Pennington of Muskegon, husband of the former Marian Bush of Zeeland, was accidentally electrocuted Friday while working in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Pennington, 19 years old, was working on sand blasting a building when the large metal scaffold, on wheels, was accidentally pushed into a high tension wire. He was affiliated with the Pennington Brothers Sand Blasting Co. which operates out of Muskegon in the summer months and in St. Petersburg during the fall and winter.

Surviving besides the wife are a son, Richard John; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lucy K. Pennington of Muskegon; two brothers, Earl of Fremont and Philip of Fremont, who were with him in Florida; and a sister, Mary Ann, of Fremont.

Two funeral services were held for the victim on Wednesday. At 9:30 a.m. rites were held at Grandall Funeral Home in Fremont, and at 2 p.m. at Second Reformed Church of Zeeland. Burial was at Zeeland Cemetery.

"Everything's all set," Armstrong said. "I'm really looking forward to it."

"It's a job now and there won't be the pressure of college or the rough 100 competition," he said. "I should pick up a lot of confidence, experience, and maybe a few bad habits."

Funeral Held Monday For Ronald Dale Topp

Ronald Dale Topp, 7 1/2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Topp of 238 East Ninth St., died Saturday morning at Children's Retreat at Cutlerville. The child had been ill since birth.

Surviving besides the parents are a sister, Barbara Lynn; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Kiekintveld, and the maternal grandfather, Henry Swieringa.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 p.m. Monday at Dykstra Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Marvin Vanderwerf of Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church officiating. Burial was at Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

Slag Heads Merchants

Bertal Slag was elected president of the Retail Merchants division at a meeting Monday in the green room of Civic Center. Harold Moor was named vice president. Members of the advisory committee are Jack Plewes, George Good, Lew Hartzell and John Du Mez. The group decided to support the theme, "Christ in Christmas," for the Christmas season.

Couple Wed at Bride's Home

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Van Dorpe

Miss Mary Lou De Weerd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin De Weerd, became the bride of Dale Van Dorpe, son of Mrs. Les Van Dorpe, on Sept. 29 at the home of the bride's parents.

Gladioli and candelabra formed a setting for the double ring rites read by Dr. F.S. Logsdon.

The bride wore a street-length gown of blue chantilly lace over pink taffeta. Her sister, Miss Esther De Weerd, as maid of honor, wore a street-length dress of pink embroidered nylon. Jim Vandenberg attended the groom as best man.

The newlyweds returned home from a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls on Oct. 2 and are at home at 390 West 20th St.

Grandstanding...

Bennie Oosterbaan said it before the season started: The University of Michigan grid crew was overrated... they had definite weaknesses (since exaggerated by injuries)... and shouldn't be ranked way at the top of the nation's collegiate standings.

At the time over-exuberant sports writers passed this off as the normal moaning of a coach with a "No. 1 in the Nation" candidate. After Saturday's 14-7 victory over Michigan State, 97,000 spectators could better understand what Bennie meant.

The Michigan defense came through with two goal-line stands, and it took State four downs to push across their lone TD. But for the most part the "M" offense was bogged down, lacked a sparkling running attack and, surprisingly, failed to come through with much of a passing attack.

Even a dedicated Michigander would have to see Army by a touchdown next Saturday afternoon.

Michigan trainer Jim Hunt thinks Tom Maentz will be playing in the Northwestern game, Oct. 15. And he's pretty perturbed about some of the publicity given Tom's injury.

Hunt said the first stories out of Ann Arbor by the wire-services erred in not accurately describing Tom's injury. "Sure he had broken vertebrae, but this can be serious or not depending upon the location of the break," said Hunt.

"If he had a break in a crucial location, he wouldn't play all season," Hunt continued.

"Instead, Tom has three broken transverse processes — something quite different," continued Hunt.

Vertebrae in the lower back have small, nublike appendages which when higher up, form ribs. These nubs, however, are only about one inch long.

They have absolutely nothing to do with the essential working of the back.

Tom cracked about a quarter of an inch off the end of three of the processes. Because of muscle action, the nubs won't grow back securely — but they won't do any harm just floating loosely.

Most doctors, including UoM specialist Dr. Carl Badgley, prefer to leave the nubs alone rather than operating for their removal.

Thus the current waiting period is partly to assure doctors that there is no other serious damage. In fact, one of Hunt's aides confided that Tom's stay in the hospital was concerned more in assuring there was no kidney trouble from the going over he got, than it was with the broken processes.

Meanwhile, Tom's spirits are picking up. He was in full uniform for the State game, and is resuming some strenuous exercises. Final decision from the doctors will be made after the Army game.

Splinters: It took more than 1,000 Boy Scouts just to usher the crowd... Gov. G. Mennen Williams, smile and all, was at the game... Fullback Lou Baldacci, injured early in the game, was back on his feet later on and shouldn't be out next week... Ron Kramer needs some fine punts to make up for the 30 yard average in the State game if he expects to keep his Big 10 punting title... Football at Ann Arbor is like Tulip Time in Holland... are the crowds, the cars and the souvenirs... Some persons would buy a picture of the Tower of London if it were marked "Souvenir of the Michigan-Michigan State football game."

The third molars are called wisdom teeth. They are not cut until a person is between 18 and 25 years old.

Century Club Speaker Views 'Europe Today'

Holland Century Club opened its 1955-56 season Monday evening with a dynamic program featuring an outstanding speaker — Robert Kazmayer, traveler, lecturer and authority on international affairs. About 75 club members and guests heard Kazmayer discuss "The European Picture Today and What It Means to Us," following dinner in the Terrace room at Durfee Hall.

In his opening remarks, Kazmayer maintained that, although much is being written and said on the Far East, Europe still remains the focal point of history-making today. Of the six wars in which the U. S. has been involved, five have been entwined in affairs of Europe, he said.

The speaker presented objective and factual discussions of several European countries.

Of Germany, he said that her recuperation from war is almost beyond human belief. Her last year's industrial production was 160 percent of Hitler's best year, he said. Kazmayer said Germany doesn't like us, but they hate and fear the Russians. They are not communistic, not pro Russian; they are not pro-American — they are German.

In discussing France, he traced their socialism from World War I to the present, showing its ending in terrific inflation. Wages have multiplied six times and living costs 16 times. The slick and smooth operator making the quick dollar has become common, and the solid citizenry of France has been made a mockery. France's economy isn't expanding at all, he said.

The speaker paid real tribute to the rank and file of English people and said they are a people who have been really able to take it for the last 25 years. Winston Churchill, he believes, will take his place among the greatest of history. For 100 years, he said, England has patrolled the war, and when she has had to move out, we've had to move in — until the time will come when the U. N. can carry on. How much of this our economy can stand is the real question, he said.

Russia, Kazmayer said, casts a shadow not over only Europe, but over all the world. She's gone just far as she dares go short of war. Whenever Russia sees that the west is going to take a firm stand, she stops. But, he said, every year of peace increases our chances for a long lasting peace.

In discussing the U. S. relationship to all of this, the speaker said our trouble is the fact that our foreign policy has never been constant — with changes from Democratic to Republican policy. If we develop a constant foreign policy we have good chance of maintaining peace, he said.

Coupled with this, we must develop a faith in democracy and "shoot it from the house." Communism is a faith, he said, and "you have to fight a faith with a stronger faith."

"The workshop floor of our Lord is covered with the fragments of broken governments. Either we develop a dynamic faith and further the work of God, or we add our nation to the scrap pile."

Music for the program was provided by Miss Evelyn Huizenga, accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow. Miss Hunzenga sang Handel's "Verdant Meadows," "Christoph Robin is saying His Prayers," Fraser-Simson, and "Let All My Life Be Music," Spross. Dr. Marion de Velder presided at the meeting.

THE FARMER AND POLITICS

There is at least one point of agreement between Democrats and Republicans as to what the late William Jennings Bryan would have called a "paramount issue" in next year's election. Both agree that farm prices will be that issue.

The Democrats predict that the farmer's predicament will make votes for them. The Republicans admit that unless they can lick the farm issue they will lose votes.

That's how things stand at the moment with the farmer in politics. Facts are stubborn things, and even political oratory is not likely to change them. The farm issue is a natural, and words are powerless to make it easier for the Republicans or less easy for the Democrats.

It does no good for the Republican spinners to point out that farm prices were already beginning to slide downward during the closing period of the Truman administration, that the big sag of today is merely the continuation of a trend begun under the auspices of the Democrats.

Nor will it do the Democrats any good, if the Republicans should lick the farm price issue, to say that their warnings caused the opposition to take action. If the Republicans can reverse the trend between now and election day, the chances are very good that they will turn their wrinkles of care into lines of pleasure.

The average human being does not vote against what he conceives to be his own bread and butter. A few groups or blocs may at times achieve such a position of disinterestedness, but the masses of human beings can always be depended upon to try their best to look out for themselves, for their families, for their own kind.

That is true of businessmen, of professional men, of all types of citizens. It is true of farmers. It will do no good to argue that they will be mistaken in repudiating the party in power because of unsatisfactory income for themselves. The average voter, farmer or businessman or professional man, does not always cast his ballot in terms of reason, usually in terms of emotion.

The farmer just now may feel he is getting the bad end of the economic deal. The party that can give him the most relief may win his vote.

The time for doing this is getting short. The Republicans should tell themselves: "Only so many more days before election."

Youngsters Must Have Work Permit

Several Holland businesses are feeling the pinch of a recent crack-down by the State Labor Department on employment of youngsters 14 through 17 years of age without a working permit.

Active enforcement of the old law by Miss Dorothy Dunlap, labor department district supervisor, has resulted in issuance of numerous warnings and a flood of permits being issued by the local office.

According to law, youths between 14 and 17 years of age must have a permit to engage in all types of work, including retail and wholesale businesses and manufacturing. A few minor exceptions include farm labor, private domestic help and newspaper carriers.

Robert Sloum, vocational instructor at Holland High School, said today that permits are not issued when the combined school and work totals more than 48 hours weekly.

Fourteen and 15-year-olds may not work while school is in session, and are not allowed to work after 9 p.m.

Youths 16 and 17 years old are not permitted to work after 10 p.m. except in a single local case being carried under special arrangement with high school.

Minimum wage laws apply to all youths working in firms engaged in interstate commerce. The minimum of 75 cents hourly will become $1 effective March 1, 1955.

Employers knowingly hiring youths contrary to the law's provisions are subject to $100 fine and - or 90 days in jail.

Sunday School

Lesson

October 9, 1955
Boyhood of Jesus — Luke 2:41-52
By Henry Geerlings

The manner of the life of Jesus was much like that of other boys. He was now twelve years old. He had never been far from Nazareth, his home town. He had learned the truth about His father at His mother's knee and in the synagogue school. He never seems to have stirred the community by any spectacular deed. He lived quietly. He did His duty.

He loved games. He enjoyed climbing the hills, observing flowers, birds and grass, and studying human nature. His thorough acquaintance with all that surrounded Him is seen in His addresses, stories and sermons. He worked at such things as He could do, making labor honorable. Nothing escaped Him, and we may be confident that He thoroughly enjoyed life.

In Jesus the real and ideal meet. We feel as we look into His face that we are looking upon a complete and perfect youth. His body grew according to the laws of regular development. His mental powers unfolded week by week. There is also to be noted His increasingly clear vision of spiritual truth.

In Him we are permitted to see the perfection of youth. He was the model infant, the model boy, the model youth, and the model man. He passed through all the experiences of tender years that He might show the value of this period, becoming the hope and inspiration of all boys and girls at once their example and Savior. He was a clean, strong, upright, active youth, intellectually and morally healthy.

Joseph and Mary themselves were religious. They loved the sanctuary. Jesus frequently saw them start out and return. What an influence it must have been on Him. Children can be sent to church when young, but not when of age. Early they will follow precept, later example. Children must have the inspiration and help that come from example. Youth would flock to our churches in greater numbers if their parents were there. It is easier to hold them at the critical age when adults fill the pews.

The church may adapt herself to conditions as best she can, and in the end fail without the aid of the fathers and mothers. The Sunday schools are solving the problem of holding boys and girls by the formation of a adult classes. When parents lead the child to duty and religious experience a new day has been dawned. God's order is the right order and we must get back to it.

Jesus enjoyed the fine fellowship with good people and this tended to make His boyhood helpful to Him. He began very early to acquire the fine art of living with folks helping them and being helped by them. But chief of all was the special attention turned on His religious training. This was never allowed to be pushed aside.

At the age of twelve He was regarded as old enough to take upon Himself some of the vows of a personal religion. This meant a chance to meet the great teachers in the temple and discuss with them the doctrines, such as we hear about in our Catechism. He was intensely absorbed in what He heard.

Obviously He had a remarkable insight into the truth for a boy of His age. He was able to enter into discussion of doctrines in a remarkable way, so much so that the great men of the temple were puzzled over His questions and answers. So much was He wrapped up in what went on in the temple that He forgot to start home with the other persons who were in the company from Nazareth.

It was a shock to His parents to discover that He was missing from the travelers. There was nothing for them to do but to return to Jerusalem and look for Him. It was no easy matter to find one boy in a busy city. There was the danger that He might have gone off in some other direction with some other group of the worshippers at the Passover.

Eventually He was found in the temple. But that visit to Jerusalem must have made a lasting impression on His mind. Doubtless experiences were His on that visit which influenced Him in later years.

Woman's Literary Club Begins Season With Tea

Woman's Literary Club's 1955-56 season opened Tuesday afternoon with a festive autumn tea and an entertaining program, enjoyed by a large share of the club's 500 members.

"You and Your Personality" was the subject, cleverly presented by Mrs. Virginia Waltz, noted lecturer, teacher, writer and poetess. Mrs. Waltz is a charming speaker who is amusing and entertaining while conveying a real message of psychology and philosophy which can lead to a happy life. Poetry is her principal interest, and she enlivens her lecture with appropriate bits of poetry and anecdotes drawn from her many interesting experiences.

The large audience warmed to her informality and lovely voice. Especially entertaining was "audience participation" in her little personality "game" by which character traits were revealed through five classifications of hand and finger characteristics.

The women in the audience were induced to "look at themselves" through a series of questions discussed by the speaker. "Our behavior toward others reveals our inward selves," Mrs. Waltz said, and "people generally reflect back our thoughts and attitudes toward them."

Questions she discussed were: What is my attitude toward others? Am I static or dynamic? Am I an introvert or an extrovert? Do I find time for the art of living? Am I grown up? Am I a sound psychologist? Do I have a sense of humor? How do I meet life's vicissitudes? Have I found God in my personal experience?

A beautifully impressive arrangement of autumn flowers decorated stage for the occasion. The arrangement was done by Mrs. E. P. Schneider and Mrs. Raymond Kuiper.

Lovely light arrangements also were used throughout the tea room for the dessert tea preceding the program. These were done by Mrs. Herbert Childress and Mrs. Ren Muller. Mrs. Carl Harrington, second vice president of the club, was in charge of the tea, which was arranged by Mrs. Henry Visser and Mrs. Charles Madison, general division chairmen. They were assisted by all the division chairmen.

Beauvais said the building was removed to provide better visibility at the intersection. Tobe Roberts, water superintendent, said the well, built in 1876, was abandoned in 1930 when the water vein it tapped became depleted. ## Ottawa Farm News

by Richard Machiele, County Agricultural Agent

We have had many requests for information on the control of yellow rocket and wild oats in alfalfa and clover fields. Leyton Nelson from the Farm Crops Department makes the following recommendations. For yellow rocket use ½ pound of actual MCP per acre applied in 30 or 40 gallons of water on alfalfa, red clover or Ladino clover after a killing frost. It appears that the period Nov. 1 to 15 is a good time to make the application. It should not be applied on new stands of alfalfa but red clover is more tolerant to MCP than alfalfa or sweet clover.

The amount of chemical used is critical. On last year's tests there was little damage when ½ pound of MCP was used but when 4 pounds was used considerable damage was seen.

Downy Brome Grass or Wild Oats can be controlled by using two pounds Dalapon per acre. This should also be applied the first two weeks in November. The cost of both of these materials will run $1.50 per acre.

I notice this past week that many wheat bins are infested with weevil. If you haven't inspected your bin you should do so immediately. Then use the proper fumigant to get rid of them. With the wheat being dry at harvest time it was thought we would not have too much trouble with wheat weevil. However, I believe the difficulty probably lies in that the granary was not properly cleaned before the new crop was put in. If you would like to have a folder on how to prepare the granary and how to eliminate weevil, drop a card to our office in Grand Haven and we will send you this information.

We have some wheat variety trials planted on the George Chittenden farm in Crocker township this year. Four varieties: one white and three red were planted this week. The varieties are: Genesee Wheat, a white wheat, and Knox, Pennell and Seneca, the red varieties. You might want to stop in and see this wheat growing. The field is on the corner of Leonard Rd. and 138th St.

Protect those grass waterways when you are plowing this fall. Grass waterways are an essential part of the water disposal system for the farm. These waterways can provide extra drainage needed when heavy gully-forming rains put the farm drainage system to a test. Water that falls during these heavy rains will run off somehow and unless you provide a safe waterway, it will probably cut a gully.

Be sure to lift plows and straighten disks when crossing waterways. One crossing with a disk set to cut can do much damage to the sod and make it easy for gullies to start.

Plow at right angles to the waterways, never parallel to it. Make it easy for the water to flow into the waterway rather than to follow the plow or cultivator marks along its side.

The final suggestion for the protection of a waterway holds true at all times whether plowing or cultivating or not - don't use the waterway for a roadway.

How much is fertilizer worth in boosting wheat, yields? The plant food's value was shown in dollars and cents in a demonstration with wheat by Louie Webb, a township agricultural agent in Calhoun county.

Richard Machiele, county agricultural agent, said the wheat was planted on Sept. 21 and topped on April 1. Here are the yields with their value above the cost of the fertilizer:

Where no fertilizer was used the yield was only 13 bushels per acre, worth $23.40. Where 370 pounds of 0-20-20 was used the yield went to 19 bushels, worth $27.70.

Where 350 pounds of 4-16-16 was applied the yield jumped to 30 bushels, worth $43.50. The yield went up to 36 bushels when 350 pounds of 4-16-16 and 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate were applied.

Holland Seniors Selected to Take Scholarship Test

Sixteen Holland High School seniors and three alternates will take a two-hour screening test on Oct. 26 in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

The seniors, carefully screened and selected by the principal, are: Mary Ann Cumerford, Barbara Emmick, Virginia Top, Charles Lemmen, Linda Gordon, Ann Marie Kleis, Roger Potter, Dawn Popen, Judy Nykamp, John Kleinhekel, Bill Japinga, Gretchen Boyd, Jane Hohman, Jan Robert, Ronald Chandler and Karen Damson, and alternates, Bennett Young, Jack De Long and Joan Tellman.

The scholarship program has been established this year and about $20,500,000 for approximately 200 four-year scholarships has been contributed to start the program. As more and more corporations contribute, more funds will be made available. The goal is 4,000 scholarships. These awards range from $100 a year to complete tuition and room and board — depending upon the financial need of the student.

Seniors in public and private schools are eligible to compete. This year, each school taking part has been permitted to select and enter five per cent of the graduating seniors. Winners of the screening test on Oct. 26 will take another examination supervised by the College Entrance Examination Board. The highest scorers in each state will submit additional information on biographies, school records and other recommendations, to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Alternates take the exam if the candidates are unable to do so.

From this group are chosen the winners. Winners then submit financial information. Financial need will be determined and the amount of the scholarship will be chosen. Winners may select any accredited college or university in the country.

County Records 23rd Auto Death

Ottawa county chalked up its 23rd traffic fatality Friday afternoon following a truck-car collision on M-21 at the 72nd Ave. crossing about 2 1/2 miles east of Zeeland.

Benjamin Mulder, 77, Byron Center, driver of the car, was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids. His companion, Peter Honderd, 81, also of Byron Center, is in fair condition with lacerations and head injuries.

Edward Ira Gifford, 47, Shelby, driver of the semi, told sheriff's officers that Mulder's 1949 car failed to stop for the highway as it came over the railroad embankment heading south on 72nd Ave. Gifford, who was driving an empty Holland Motor Express truck west on M-21, applied his brakes but the truck struck the car broadside on the left.

The impact sent the light car into a guard rail, hitting a cable and knocking down a post, and then the car with its two occupants hurled down an 18-foot embankment partly into a small stream. Truck skidmarks measured 94 feet to the point of impact. Fishing poles on the car indicated the two elderly men were either headed for a fishing trip or were returning.

The intersection where the crash occurred is a particularly dangerous one for turns. The railroad tracks which run parallel to the road are considerably higher than a road, causing a steep incline. The stream which runs some 18 feet under the level of M-21 causes a deep gully on the other side. This intersection is in the area of the Vriesland celery fields and lies about a mile west of the beginning of the divided highway.

The two men were taken to St. Mary's Hospital by a Zeeland ambulance.

Mulder is survived by the wife; a daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Hibma of Byron Center; a sister, Mrs. Anna Solter of Florida; two brothers, Henry B. and Jack A. of Grand Rapids; two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Volleyballs

The picture of the old Wagner Chorus which ran in the Sentinel Aug. 27 stirred memories for a lot of Holland people and for outsiders too.

A letter came to The Sentinel the other day from Paul Dryer, mortician at Holly, Mich., who proudly identified himself as the "unidentified man" in the front row between Burke Taylor and John Vandersluis. Dryer said the paper had been forwarded to him by Fred Stoltz of Holland.

Dryer said he sang in the Wagner Chorus for four years dating back to 1909. In those days he lived in the Ederle home on Ninth St. across from the Episcopal church and he sang in a mixed quartet at the church for four years too. Otto P. Kramer was the bass, a Miss Boots who operated a book store was contralto and the minister's wife whose name he forgets was soprano. Dryer was the tenor. He also sang with a male quartet one summer at Hope Church. The only one he remembers in that quartet was Prof. Nykerk of Hope College.

Dryer left Holland in August, 1912, and he said Sam Miller who used to operate a restaurant at the depot called on him twice since that time. Dryer had come to Holland on his 20th birthday March 9, 1907, from Muskegon and lived here five years.

Dryer worked in the Bush and Lane Piano Co. here, and then worked in piano factories in Indiana, New York and Wisconsin before settling in Holly, Mich., in April, 1915. Three years later he enlisted in the Army and was a replacement in the 4th Machine Gun Co., 2nd Division. On Dec. 13, 1918, he crossed the Rhine River in Germany and stayed there almost a year. He sang for the soldiers and spent 10 weeks in vaudeville and 20 weeks in a musical comedy named "Robinson Crusoe."

In 1923 he went to the Cincinnati College of Embalming and since 1925 has been a funeral director in Holly. In 1927 he married a Coldwater girl and they have two sons, one a partner in the funeral home and the other at Michigan State University.

"I have many pleasant memories of Holland and its people. Every one was very kind to me while in Holland. I could write volumes about that five-year stay," he concluded.

That wasn't the only response to the picture. Russ Huyser who gave the old picture to The Sentinel received a letter from Herman Steketee, recuperating from an operation in Red Bluff, Calif., listing all the names of the old chorus, the pride of Holland's musical circles 45 years ago. When Steketee wrote on Sept. 3, the Sacramento valley was having temperatures up to 122 degrees.

Actually, we at The Sentinel were a bit chagrined over some developments. We noted the picture to at least six persons to get the identifications. Then we waited a couple of weeks before we found space for the five-column cut. Imagine our surprise when we filed the cut to find a four-column cut of the same picture with A.I.L. names. It had run in the Sentinel May 27, 1944.

Syl Paulus who operates Waukazoo Hotel during the summer dropped us a note the other day which could speak for all resort business operators.

"Another resort season has come to a close. I'm sure that I am speaking for the other resort operators as well as myself when I say that the summer of 1953 has been a good one.

"The weather man did right by us to be sure and so did the people of Holland. So many of our guests commented on the friendliness they met in the stores and on the streets. The attitude of the folks is quite different from what it was when I was a boy, when resorters were looked upon as people from another world. It has now gotten to the point where I can go to town at 8 in the morning and have a minimum number of whistles at my Bermuda shorts!

"Mrs. Paulus and I are happy and proud to be a part of the Holland community for four months each."

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs
Check Dog's Paws

If you ever ran barefoot during summertime when you were a child you will remember the sharp pain of walking over a field of fresh stubble, or a stepping on a sharp stone or a piece of glass. Your dog goes barefoot all the time. It is true that Nature provides him with pads, but still he doesn't have thick leathery soles, as we do, to protect him from pointed stones and glass.

Every few days examine your pet's four paws. Generally, you will find them in good condition but you may note occasionally that there is a crack in one pad caused by having stepped on glass or some other piercing surface. There might be a thorn or even a tack in the pad.

Check the calloused cushions and also inspect between the toes. It is surprising how easily a little pebble can become wedged between a dog's toes causing inflammation and possibly infection if not removed.

At first the animal may not show any sign of lameness from a pebble or thorn, and that is why it is advisable to look at the condition of his feet regularly in order to prevent infection from developing due to a cut or piece of foreign matter that might be lodged in one of the pads or between the toes.

Canine Heart Trouble

A reader asks if dogs ever suffer from heart trouble and, if so, the kind of treatment that ought to be administered. Heart disease is sometimes discovered in young dogs, but nearly always it is a disease peculiar only to old dogs. The symptoms are palpitation, rapid breathing and paroxysms of coughing; the dog tires easily when climbing up stairs or refuses to climb them at all.

A dog suffering from cardiac trouble should be under the care and direction of a veterinarian. While the animal cannot be completely cured, if you follow authorized medical instructions you will find that he will improve.

Dogs with heart disease should have milk and cereals substituted for meat in their diet. Many prominent veterinarians also recommend a proper stimulant which keeps the heart action evenly balanced. Decrease the amount of the dog's drinking water and make certain not to over-feed him.

Smart Dog

Some time or other most humans have gone into a nearby drugstore for treatment of a minor injury, either to have the druggist dress a small cut or perhaps to have a cinder removed from the eye.

In Atlanta, Georgia, a little rough-haired terrier was recently struck a glancing blow by an automobile while crossing the street. He picked himself up and limped a block and a half to the nearest drugstore, entered and whined in front of the counter until a clerk noticed him and his damaged leg.

The man treated and dressed the wound, and the terrier responded with a happy "thank you" wag of his tail. Then he turned, bounded gleefully out of the store and disappeared down the street.

Waverly P-T Opens Season With Potluck

The first meeting of the season for the Waverly Parent-Teachers Club was held Thursday evening in the school. A potluck supper was in charge of Mrs. E. Diekema, Mrs. A. Strabbing, Mrs. J. Droeger and Mrs. R. Routhorst.

At a business meeting with Ray Routhorst presiding, plans for the year's activities were announced. They include a skating party for members and families in January, a soup supper in February and a speaker for the next meeting to be held Nov. 17.

HOLLAND ON MOVE — Dick Den Uyl, Holland High right half-back, drove seven yards and to a first down on this play, to set up Holland's touchdown against Muskegon Heights Friday night. On the next play, Ron Van Dyke shot off tackle from the nine for the score. The Tigers scored in the fourth period and defeated Holland 7-6. Here, Den Uyl is about to be brought down by an unidentified Heights tackler. Coming up to aid in the tackle are Tom Christopher (39) and Vern Hosko (41) two Heights backs. (Sentinel photo)

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water

Passing out bouquets for the play in the Holland - Muskegon Heights game Friday night, the Holland line, offensively and defensively, showed up well.

Encouraging was the play of juniors Ted Van Zanden, who along with another junior Gordon DeVries fell on a Tigers fumble. Also the end play of junior Dale Streicher, was noticed and tackle Al Hill, whose fine play is becoming a habit.

Senior lineman Bob Bernecker, Norm Brumm, Ed Shidler and Russ showed that they too have come along way since last year's play.

Junior quarterback Tom Stoel continues to improve with every game both in passing and play calling. He completed two out of four for 38 yards and brought Holland's season total to four out of 16.

Okie Johnson, whose Tigers had a 7-1-1 mark last year now has a 2-1 record for the year.

Don Schreimer, Grand Rapids South coach and former Hope College end, was scouting the game from the press box. He meets both Holland and Muskegon Heights this year. South plays Ottawa tonight. Undoubtedly, Holland coaches will return the "favor" of scouting the game since the Dutch meet both teams.

Four chartered buses brought the Muskegon Heights band to the game. About 250 Heights followers attended the game and swelled the estimated attendance to about 3,000.

Again the bands stole the "spectacle" part of the show. Both Muskegon Heights and Holland bands performed at halftime and combined for the National Anthem prior to the game.

Holland Branch, AAUW, Holds Opening Meeting

Small group discussions on goals, purposes and accomplishments of committees and study groups highlighted the opening meeting of Holland Branch, American Association of University Women, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Robert Horner was hostess to the branch at The Mooring on Lake Macatawa.

The program followed a potluck supper, arranged by Mrs. Carl C. Van Raalte, assisted by Mrs. D. Kenneth O'Meara, co-chairman; Mrs. Lester Klaasen, Mrs. Vern Schipper, Mrs. George Walbridge, Mrs. Clyde Geerlings and Miss Wilhelmine Haberlander.

Guests at the affair were prospective AAUW members, who were invited by the membership chairman, Mrs. Ted Boeve and her committee.

The scope of AAUW, its interests, local projects, aims and problems, as well as plans for the year, were informally presented in five discussion group sessions. Mrs. Horner led the group on Social Studies and Education; Prof. Metta Ross, International Relations; Mrs. J. Dyke van Putten, Status of Women; Mrs. Morrette Rider, radio and television; Mrs. Philip Van Hartsveldt, Fellowship; Miss Bernice Bishop, scholarship; Mrs. Ted Boeve, legislative and Mrs. James C. De Pree, Arts.

Mrs. Henry Steffens, a former president of the branch and now a member of the board, gave a clever presentation on her attendance at the national AAUW convention in Los Angeles last summer.

During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Donald Brown, president, reports were given by Miss Jantina Holleman, secretary, and Mrs. Walter Scott, treasurer. The branch adopted the budget for the year. Mrs. Van Hartsveldt announced plans for the Fellowship committee's annual used book sale.

The Holland High band, under the direction of Arthur C. Hills, presented a TV sequence, depicting some of the shows and tunes on television.

A large TV camera was made to open the festivities and the band played the "World Events" number used to promote one of the new programs.

Next a large couple of cardboard eyes appeared on the simulated screen and the band played Eddie Cantor's theme song "If You Knew Susie."

A popular song "Shboom" was played while four Holland High girls did a little soft shoe dance impersonating the Crew Cuts, well-known recording quartet. This was followed by the making of a con-skin cap and "Davy Crockett" "Davy" in Western garb and a small-fry "Davy" paraded in front of the cap.

A TV commercial was vividly portrayed by driving a late model car between two parallel lines of band members who played one of the car musical ditties.

The band formed a woman's figure and did a conga while playing "Mamma Ynez" for the final section of the TV story. A block H and the Holland High pep song concluded the presentation.

The Muskegon Heights band, directed by Paul Liddicoat, also did a takeoff on TV for its halftime part of the show.

With a "version of Medley," the band made a pair of eyes and played "Dark Eyes" and this was followed by the formation of a heart and the playing of the popular song by the same name.

The skeleton of a figure was made and the band played "Dry Bones" which was followed by the figure "moving" while the band played "When the Saints Come Marching In." The block H and the Tiger victory song concluded the presentation.

Both were well received by the fans.

Ottawa Escapees Begin Jail Terms

CADILLAC, Michigan — Two men who escaped from the Ottawa County Jail a week ago Saturday began prison terms Saturday for breaking into a Kalkaska County general store.

Circuit Judge Howard Campbell sentenced Vernon F. Hikade, 34, a former Grand Rapids policeman, and Merle Bowen, 39, Holland, to terms of 4 1/2 to 15 years each Friday after they pleaded guilty to the charge.

Hikade, Bowen and Larry Bouten, of Lansing escaped from the Ottawa jail at Grand Haven by chiseling through a 14-inch thick wall. Hikade and Bowen were captured by State Police at a hunting cabin near Camp Grayling Tuesday while Bouten was apprehended in Minnesota the next day.

At the time of his escape, Hikade was being held on a stolen car charge which was scheduled to be dropped and he would have been released from jail two days ago, Ottawa County officials said. Bowen was being held on a non-support charge while Bouten was awaiting trial on a grand larceny charge in connection with theft of a pleasure cruiser which was found sunk at Chicago.

Juveniles Caught Following Break-in

Three 16-year old juveniles were arrested early Saturday following a break-in at Waukazoo School.

Acting on a tip received in a phone call, Ottawa county deputy Bud Grysen captured the trio, who had escaped in a car. He nabbed them a short distance from the school. The call was received while the break-in was in progress.

The juvenile operating the car was driving without a license. The group tore a sink off a wall, drank some milk and ate some food while in the school.

They spent Friday night in Holland jail. They were turned over to county juvenile agents.

Holland Reserves Receive Trouncing

Holland High's reserves took their third beating in as many starts here Friday afternoon, dropping a 40-18 decision to Muskegon Heights.

The Dutch managed to score three times in the fourth quarter against the Tiger third and fourth stringers.

Ron Kuylers hit Larry Alderink on two pass plays, each covering 40 yards for two tallies and Kuylers ran through tackle for 25 yards for the third six-pointer.

Muskegon Heights scored in the first three quarters. Osie Mc Cartty dashed 20 yards for the first tally and Sonny Singer went 35 yards a few minutes later. The third first period score came on a 30-yard Tom O'Neil run around end.

J. D. Huey intercepted a Dutch pass in the second quarter and romped 30 yards to score.

O'Neil smashed off tackle for four yards in the third period for another score and the final Heights touchdown came on a pass from Mc Cartty to Ron Robinson, covering 60 yards. Titus Robinson made three extra point kicks.

Weaver-Vander Kooy Rites Read

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel J. Weaver

The marriage of Miss Shirley J. Vander Kooy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vander Kooy of Jamestown, to Herschel J. Weaver, was solemnized Sept. 9 in Jamestown Reformed Church with the Rev. # Hope Scores Three Times In Last Period to Post Win

Two Long Passes Break Up Carroll For 19-13 Victory

Three touchdowns in the final 10 minutes of play, two on long passes, provided a brilliant finish for Hope College's first football win of the season here Saturday night, a 19-13 victory over Carroll College at Riverview Park.

It was quarterback John Holmlund pitching to "old pro" John Adams that first tied and then broke Carroll's back.

Holmlund, who doesn't know actually how far he can throw a football, stepped back and heaved the first TD pass with 6:45 remaining. The line of scrimmage was the Carroll 45 and Adams gathered it in on the two, after outrunning Jack Fendt, Carroll defender.

Cool Holmlund got the second pass off to Adams with 1:20 left. The scrimmage was the Hope 47. This time, Adams, who again sneaked down the sidelines and outdistanced Fendt, took the ball over his shoulder on the 15 and pranced into the end zone amid the cheers of the 2,000 Hope fans.

Dave Woodcock started the rally at the 10 minute mark. Behind 13-0 at the time, the 200 pound Woodcock streaked like a dash man off tackle 37 yards for the first Hope tally.

He picked up speed as he went and a valuable block from freshman Jack Faber, who took out one man and partially stopped another, enough to let Woodcock get around the tackler and head for the sidelines.

Don Van Hoeven converted following the first touchdown but high centers on the other two place-kicks caused late kicks and both were blocked.

Alert John Hollander was credited by his teammates for "calling" the two touchdown pass plays. Tackle Hollander noted that Fendt was limping slightly and suggested trying the long pass.

Carroll had taken a 7-0 first half lead and pushed to 13-0 in the fourth quarter.

The first touchdown followed a 68-yard drive after a Hope punt to the Carroll 32.

Fendt took the ball around end on a quarterback keep from four yards out to score. He was hit on the one but managed to fall on the goal line. The touchdown was made with 4:25 left in the first half.

George Spelius kicked the extra point.

The Fighting Pioneer's second touchdown came with one minute gone in the fourth period.

Carroll partially blocked a Woodcock punt on the Hope 44 and halfback Joe Sydow pushed to the Dutch 37 on the first play.

Here, reserve quarterback Ken Groble hit end Glenn Braunschweig on the Hope 20 and the lanky fellow galloped the rest of the way.

Spelius' kick was wide.

Hope's first touchdown drive started after the locals received the kickoff and exchanged a down series and punt with the visitors. While Carroll had the ball, Blaine Timmer, Hope sophomore guard, received a leg injury and may be lost for some time.

Sydow punted to Adams on the Hope 22, and Adams returned to the Hope 39. Holmlund uncorked a first down pass to Faber and with the Dutch conveying, the Zeeland freshman got 28 yards to the Carroll 37 where Woodcock started his sprint.

It took Hope six plays to score the three touchdowns.

And each score started a bit farther from the goal line than the other. Faber's catch of Holmlund's pass had set up the first touchdown. Faber had punched through center for a yard to the Carroll 45 on first down after Adams had returned a punt five yards. On the previous play Woodcock had gone seven on a cross-back before the final pass after Faber had taken a Carroll kick from his own 25 to the Hope 40.

Hope had one other drive in the game but lost the ball on downs on the Pioneers 12-yard line.

Carroll took the first kickoff on the five and in three series of downs got to the Hope 48 but failed by a foot of making another first down.

Hope took over and Adams and Woodcock alternated in moving the ball to the 12 where the Carroll line rose and stopped the Dutch two yards short of a first down.

Adam's 24-yard end run was highlight of the drive. The senior halfback took quarterback Harry Voss' delayed handoff and scooted for the sidelines.

Hope, after being outrushed 135 to 54 yards in the first half, came back strong in the third period and let the Pioneers inside the 50 yard line just once, a six yard advance by Mike Chitjian, right halfback, to the 44. The Dutch penetrated to the Carroll 23 but lost the ball on downs.

Carroll, although worn down in the late stages and without starting tackle Bill Lueder, who received a bumped jaw, did outrush Hope 182-130. But the visitors made only 57 yards on the ground in the last two periods. Hope had been held to 54 yards rushing the first two quarters.

Hope threw the ball 18 times and completed six, the best average so far this season. Both teams made 11 first downs.

NOTES ON HOPE-CARROLL GAME—There wasn't a happier man in Riverview Park following Hope's win than Coach Russ De Vette, who jumped about three feet off the ground following the final touchdown. He was the first man on the field at the end of the game and raced to the Hope 10 (where play concluded) to grab John Adams. He then slapped other players on the back and then headed to the center of the field to meet stunned Carroll coach, Mickey McCormick. . . Dave Woodcock, sophomore transfer from Tulsa, was the game's rushing leader with 82 yards in 10 tries. Jack Faber of Zeeland intercepted a pass on the Hope two and returned to the 10 for the game's final play. He was chased almost half the width of the field in picking up eight yards and caught a first in the face after being tackled. . . The only times Hope called the pass play that worked was on the two touchdowns. . . Joe Sydow led Carroll rushers with 68 yards in 14 tries. . . George Luder, injured Carroll tackle, was examined by Dr. Otto van der Velde at the park and moved by ambulance to Holland Hospital where his jaw was diagnosed, treated and released. . . Carroll College returned to Waukesha, Wis., after the game. They expected to arrive home about 4:30 a.m. Hope freshmen, wearing the green pants, worked out part of a Kangaroo court sentence by signing the Alma Mater in a body on the playing field during a half time. They also responded to "pot Frosh." A few sophomore boys almost ruined the performance, trying to get into the act and rough up a few of the yearlings. . . Hope's band, under the direction of Morette Rider, although few in numbers, let out with several peppy tunes during the game.

The only times Hope called the pass play that worked was on the two touchdowns. . . Joe Sydow led Carroll rushers with 68 yards in 14 tries. . . George Luder, injured Carroll tackle, was examined by Dr. Otto van der Velde at the park and moved by ambulance to Holland Hospital where his jaw was diagnosed, treated and released. . . Carroll College returned to Waukesha, Wis., after the game. They expected to arrive home about 4:30 a.m. Hope freshmen, wearing the green pants, worked out part of a Kangaroo court sentence by signing the Alma Mater in a body on the playing field during a half time. They also responded to "pot Frosh." A few sophomore boys almost ruined the performance, trying to get into the act and rough up a few of the yearlings. . . Hope's band, under the direction of Morette Rider, although few in numbers, let out with several peppy tunes during the game.

Catholic Women Meet at Allegan

A Deanery meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women was held in the school auditorium of Blessed Sacrament Church, Allegan, last Sunday. About 125 women attended.

The Very Rev. J. M. Westdorp of St. Francis de Sales, Holland, officiated at devotions. He is dean of the Holland Deanery. The Rev. William Hoogterp of St. Peter's parish, Douglas, also was present. Mrs. Alec Polityka, president of the Altar and Rosary Society, opened the meeting with prayer and introduced the Rev. Edward Jaworowicz, who spoke on "Our Youth of Today." He said secularism is responsible for much juvenile delinquency and stressed the great need for home training—spiritually and morally—on the part of parents.

Deanery president Mrs. Robert Wyngarden called the roll. The following parish council presidents were present: Mrs. John Hudzik and Mrs. Peter Heydens, Holland; Mrs. Charles Gertner, Saugatuck; Mrs. E. L. Leland, Otsego; Mrs. Frank Draugelis, Spring Lake; Mrs. Eleanor Howard, New Salem; Mrs. Dorothy Bott, North Dor; Mrs. Marguerite Kiel, Byron Center, and Mrs. Polityka, Allegan.

Mrs. Malcolm Ferguson of Spring Lake was named secretary to succeed Mrs. Arthur Marcotte of Douglas, who resigned because of illness.

Posters commemorating United Nations 10th anniversary were on display. In line with that theme, Mrs. Wyngarden suggested that instead of "trick or treat" the children at Halloween request donations for needy children. She announced a need for clothing for the Holy Father's Storehouse to help the poor and needy overseas. Refreshments were served and a tour through the beautiful new school was conducted.

Honey, It's Hunting Season...Goodbye

Thousands of Michigan women became "hunting season widows" Saturday as an estimated 730,000 hunters opened the 1955 small game season.

Wives like Mrs. Gene Coney, pictured below, joined in the fray. But for the most part Oct. 1 signified the beginning of a long period during which the men are seen briefly between working and hunting.

Waterfowl and ruffed grouse are the main attraction, although a large number of Holland archers will take to the Allegan forests after deer.

Major interest here, however, is in ducks.

The Black River marshes, at the lowest water level in 10 years, conceal one of the biggest mallard populations in the county. One flock contains an estimated 50 birds.

Duck hunting has a particular fascination. One explanation is given by Cliff De Feyter of River Hills Dr. who points out "mallards are smart birds." He ought to know. A few years back he shot 16 birds in two shots.

This year's waterfowl season is the longest in recent years—70 days. Last season 474,000 ducks and 23,000 geese were bagged in a 55-day season.
